Fugitives From Justice

There were one thousand and twenty-eight (1,028) fugitives from justice arrested in St. Louis during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929.

Of this number, seven hundred and fifty-one (751) were delivered to authorities of other cities, and two hundred and seventy-seven (277) were released.

There were one hundred and eight (108) fugitives from justice traced to and arrested in other cities, and returned to St. Louis for trial during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1929.

In addition to the above work performed, the members of the Bureau also rendered much assistance to local and out-of-town officers in exhibiting photos of criminals to victims of robberies, confidence games, pickpockets, thefts of automobiles, bank robberies and other robberies for the purpose of identification.

Copies of photos were made of persons wanted who were not previously handled by the Bureau of Identification. New photos were also taken of criminals previously on file, but who had not been arrested for a number of years.

During the year the Bureau of Research was established for the purpose of furnishing firearm identification evidence to the Circuit Attorney and the Criminal Courts.

All holdup men and women, burglars, forgers, pickpockets, shoplifters and confidence games, etc., are listed in the modus operandi filing system according to the crime and description of the individual.

Members of this Bureau visited the scenes of homicides, robberies, burglaries and other crimes, as well as fires, for the purpose of taking photographs of the scenes and obtaining finger prints and such other data as could be used as competent evidence before the Coroner and the Courts.

This Bureau also assisted in every possible way the Post Office Department; Treasury Department—Secret Service Division; Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Division, Department of Justice, Immigration Department and the Prohibition Division.

The Bureau of Identification has also been at the disposal of the American Railway Express Company and all railroads insofar as is consistent with their activities against criminals encountered by them.

Research Bureau

This new Bureau was added to the department during the past year. In exercising one of its functions it employs the system of Forensic Ballistics, which is sometimes referred to as bullet finger-printing. Briefly, it is the scientific investigation and identification of bullets, shells and firearms, based solely on facts determined with mechanical accuracy, and in which human opinions have no part or place. These investigations are carried on with a specially designed and highly perfected type of comparison microscope, the particular function of which is to fuse into a single one, the image of two bullets or shells, so that in case the markings on each are identical, the composite picture produced will reveal, after the identical markings or grooves have been located and brought into approximation, what appears to be a single bullet or shell rather than the fusion of two. Unless two bullets have been discharged through the same barrel of a firearm they cannot be so fused that they will present the appearance of a single bullet, the picture always evidencing marked differences in its two halves. This same result will be obtained in the case of shells which have, or have not, been discharged from the same arm, those having been fired from the same arm being easily matched and others cannot be matched. Forensic Ballistic evidence was successfully used by the department in several cases recently.

Traffic Division

One of the greatest problems confronting the large cities of the country today is the handling of the ever-increasing traffic congestion. Traffic has increased at such a tremendous rate that it is trying the minds of the best engineers of the country to cope with this situation. To the Police Department, whose duty it is to safeguard life and property, has fallen the task of regulating and expediting the movement of traffic to the greatest degree of safety to the public.

The offices of the Traffic Division are located on the first floor, rooms No. 106 and No. 107, of the Police Headquarters Building, 1200 Clark avenue.

One of the accomplishments of the year was the establishing of the Traffic Violation Bureau. This bureau was opened on July 1, 1928, and is in charge of Sergeant Eskridge Votaw. This with five clerks, a Deputy City Marshal as cashier, a Deputy City Court Clerk and an Assistant City Attorney comprise the personnel of said bureau.

The bureau was established for the purpose of permitting violators of minor traffic laws to appear at this bureau within three days of the issuance of an arrest notification, waive trial and pay a scheduled assessment for the violation committed. It is also to expedite court cases and save a violator the time of going to court and spend considerable time waiting for his or her case to be called, where, upon payment of cost in the bureau, the case will be attended to without delay.

During the establishment of the Traffic Violation Bureau, a total of 38,745 cases were handled, of which 17,834 persons paid the scheduled assessment and the remaining 20,911 cases were sent to the City Courts. The amount collected from the above number of persons was $54,868.00.

The offices of the Traffic Violation Bureau are located on the first floor, rooms No. 104 and No. 105, Police Headquarters Building, 1200 Clark avenue.

The traffic officers report for roll call at the station houses most conveniently located to their places of assignment. The officers of the Motorcycle Squad report for roll call and occupy quarters in the police garage located at 3915 Laclede avenue.

The officers of this division, besides performing their regular duties, have policed special details to the number of 680 during the past year. They have also made 46,121 arrests, of which a large percentage were for traffic violations.

There are at the present time one hundred and three automatic traffic signals installed at various street intersections throughout the city. There are forty-two single-unit, fifty-nine four-unit, one three-unit and one five-unit type signals.

In order to cope with the traffic problem the department maintains what is known as the Traffic Division, the personnel consisting of the following:

John Y. Goodin, Captain	Cliff D. Reber, Lieutenant

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR OF POLICE

The following personnel constitutes the office of Inspector of Police:

Major William R. Walton, Inspector of Police	William Stinger, Field Captain
1 Sergeant	1 Stenographer
2 Patrolmen (1 Uniform Inspector)

Through the office of the Inspector of Police a mass of detail work passes, consisting of applications for lost time, to retain rewards, employ counsel, file civil suits, retain gifts, etc., all carrying a report or endorsement of the Inspector, after an investigation has been made to determine the status of such applications.

Perhaps the greatest and most pronounced function of the office of the Inspector of Police is to adjudicate the matter of complaints lodged against members of the department, which are manifold and diversified, some being of a trivial nature, but nevertheless causing the office to act as a clearing house for every matter concerning the inefficiency of a civilian employe or misconduct of one of the rank and file, each case necessitating a report to the Chief of Police for his information and the guidance of the Board.

In addition to the regular routine of the office, tours of inspection are regularly made to the various districts by the Inspector of Police, as well as preparing all charges, subpoenas, etc., fixing dates of trials before the Board and prosecuting such charges.

A general idea of the nature of the various detail matters handled by the Inspector's office can be gained after a perusal of the following data:

The field captain makes special investigations, etc., at the direction of the Inspector, and assists in inspections, tours and examinations held.

The uniform inspector inspects all uniforms, hats, caps, leggings, etc., worn by members of the department, delineates the specifications as to quality, workmanship, etc., of the uniforms purchased for the use of members of the department; arbitrates the matter of applications for reimbursement for damage to uniforms and paraphernalia while in the discharge of police duty, and officiates as sergeant-at-arms in the preservation of order and decorum at all meetings of the Board of Police Commissioners. A clipping bureau is maintained by him, in which are preserved clippings from local metropolitan papers bearing on police activity and otherwise.

THE POLICE JOURNAL

The Police Journal is the official organ of the Board of Police Commissioners and of the Police Department. It began the eighteenth year of its existence on April 6, 1929. It is a weekly newspaper, seven by ten inches, averaging twelve pages. The object of printing a paper of this kind is to keep the officers and employes in close touch with everything that is transpiring in the department and elsewhere, which it is to their interest to know, and to assist in welding the department into a harmonious and more effective unit for the prevention and eradication of crime in this community. All new ordinances affecting the department are published in the Journal, as are the proceedings of the regular weekly meetings of the Board of Police Commissioners. Whenever an exceptionally good arrest is made—police duty that stands out above the ordinary, everyday routine cases made by members of the force—the Journal prints the particulars of the case, giving the officers concerned full credit for their good work, thus encouraging other officers to be on their “toes” and do all in their power to perform similar service. The Journal also publishes many letters of commendation from citizens and visitors who are appreciative of the good work of the department.

“Efficient Police Make a City of Peace,” is the slogan of the department. It was donated by Mr. G. H. Palin, of New York City, in 1924, for exclusive use of the Police Journal. It is being lived up to in a manner that is most convincing to those who are aware of the great handicaps under which a police department functions, not to mention the great hazards taken by officers daily in protecting the citizenship of any community against bandits. Officers of the department are not forgetting this apt slogan. Their splendid work in preventing crimes and in arresting violators after offenses against the law have been committed amply verifies this. The work of the officers of the department in stamping out crime in this community has improved yearly, and the publicity given good arrests in the department's paper has spurred the men on in their never-ending war against crime and criminals.

The Journal prints 3,500 copies a week. It has a mailing list which includes police departments of other cities, public libraries, sociological organizations and reputable citizens who are intensely interested in police work. So far as known it is the only weekly newspaper of its kind in the world. It is issued gratis to members of the department and others who have need for a publication of this character.

POLICE BAND

The St. Louis Metropolitan Police Band was organized in September, 1921, with seventeen members and has since grown to an organization of thirty-eight members, and has developed into a musical organization second to none in the city. The uniforms and instruments are furnished by the Board of Police Commissioners, each member being responsible for his uniform and the instrument that he plays. The officers of the band are as follows:

Lieutenant Wm. L. Henry, Eighth District, President and Vice-President.
 Patrolman Fred H. Windmoeller, Central District, Assistant Leader.
 Lieutenant James J. Moran, Twelfth District, Drum Major.
 Patrolman Harry G. Ziegler, Seventh District, Secretary and Librarian.
 Patrolman Edward Schlewing, Traffic Division, Color Bearer.
 Patrolman Henry Bruns, Traffic Division, Banner Bearer.

Professor Henry J. Falkenhainer, one of the most capable band leaders in the city and a member of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, is band leader and instructor and through his untiring efforts the Police Band has developed into one of the best musical organizations of its kind in the country.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday from 2 to 5 P. M., at the Eleventh District Station. The band always attends funerals of deceased officers except in a few instances where the family of the deceased officers do not desire the services of the band, which has only been on one or two occasions.

THE POLICE TRAINING SCHOOL

The school is located on the second floor of the Police Gymnasium Building, at 223 South Twelfth boulevard.

A total of 92 probationary patrolmen attended the school during the past year, one was dropped from the rolls, and one resigned while attending school.

On March 12, 1928, the Police Training School was reorganized and the method of instruction was changed. The course of training was extended from four to six weeks. Text books were eliminated and instruction by lectures was substituted. A daily schedule of eight hours is still maintained. Competent instructors connected with the Police Department lecture new recruits on The Constitution, Government, Criminal Law, City Ordinances, Organization and Duties of Policemen, City Police Geography, Tours of Observation and Inspection, etc. Special training in the Construction of Official Reports, State and City Traffic Laws and First Aid Instruction is given prominent place in the course. Experts from the Tracing Bureau, Bertillon Room and Automobile Bureau explain the respective activities of their divisions. Drill, target practice and instruction in the proper handling of firearms, and physical training receive special attention. An extensive gymnasium course is required of all officers who have joined the department during the last three years.

First Aid Lectures

Lectures in First Aid work are given throughout the department and are taken from the regular Red Cross First Aid course, consisting of fifteen lectures. Two months' time is required to deliver one lecture to every platoon in each district, division and bureau. Every student officer while attending the Police Training School receives three lectures a week and must finish the complete course before being assigned for beat duty.

Approximately 345 lectures have been delivered during the past year, each consisting of actual demonstrations in applying first aid to the injured as well as instructions.

Every member of the force is required to take these lectures and the regular Red Cross certificate will be awarded at the end of the course.

Since the First Aid lectures have been inaugurated in the department a greater interest has been shown by officers in giving first aid to the injured, and there have been numerous cases brought to the attention of the instructor where lives have been saved by the knowledge of first aid which the officers obtained from these lectures.

Physical Course

"Every action of the body is first an action of the mind," whether it be in solving an everyday problem or following the actions of an athletic director. The mind cannot find expression except through the body. Physical education is now an imperative part of our Police School curriculum and attendance for the forenoon and afternoon shifts is compulsory.

The gymnasium activities now conducted in the new building for that purpose, during the fall and winter seasons, show an enrollment of 470 police officers per week. All officers enrolled are examined annually on the following subjects as a test of their physical fitness: Calisthenics, jiu jitsu, club fencing, running, vaulting, boxing, scaling, swimming and run and drop shooting.

The new gymnasium is equipped with every description of modern apparatus, which affords each officer taking part the convenience of a thorough and practical training. The said officers are also trained in swimming during the summer months of July and August at the "Battery A" pool, which course includes strenuous practice in life saving. Enrollment last season was some odd 400 per week. This two-month period, while encouraged to keep the men in condition, is a means of recreation also.

Blood Transfusion

A number of officers have volunteered to give their blood for transfusion when needed. These officers have been selected by the department surgeons and are grouped according to blood tests. They are subject to call at any time, day or night. The attending physician, when in need of blood transfusion, communicates with the office of the Chief of Police to send an officer from a certain group, and when approved by the Chief or his assistant, the request is immediately complied with.

The original purpose in forming this unit was to be always prepared to care for injured police officers. However, it has been the department's privilege to render this service to some of our citizens, who have been unfortunate victims in cases deserving of public sympathy, with splendid success.

Office of the Drillmaster

The following personnel constitutes the office of the Drillmaster:

Lieutenant Nick Bosch, Jr., Drillmaster

1 Sergeant, acting Assistant Drillmaster

2 Patrolmen, 1 as Instructor and 1 as acting Armorer

2 Patrolmen, Instructors in Shooting (attached)

1 Clerk

The Drillmaster has charge of the training and drilling of the members of the force in prescribed military tactics and in proper handling of all firearms. It is his special duty to impress upon the members of the force the necessity of maintaining at all times a soldierly bearing, discipline, military neatness and promptness in discharge of their duties. He also has charge of the classes of students of the Police Training School for one hour and fifteen minutes each day during their six weeks' training at the school, instructing them in military drills, courtesy, discipline, neatness, the art of self-defense, searching of prisoners, the disarming of armed criminals and the use of firearms. All students are required to qualify in the department revolver course before leaving the training school.

All districts, including the Traffic Division, are drilled and inspected by platoons once a week, a half hour before the regular roll call. The drilling is in charge of the platoon commanders, assisted by the Sergeants of the platoon. This drill consists of the School of the Soldier and a thorough inspection of uniforms and revolvers. Each of these platoons are inspected on an average of once a month by the Drillmaster or his assistant, who inspects a different district each day.

The Drillmaster has charge of all funerals, where members of the department receive military burials. He also supervises and arranges various schedules such as First Aid Lectures, Drill and Shooting Schedules, etc.

During the annual revolver target practice the Drillmaster is assisted by four patrolmen, who act as instructors, two of whom are attached to the Target Range from their respective districts. These officers reload all ammunition used in the annual target practice and inter-district matches, reloading ammunition between times when classes are scheduled to shoot and on days when no classes are scheduled. One of these instructors, who is acting Armorer, repairs all revolvers of members of the department and also looks after all firearms property of the department.

All officers of the department, physically able, are required to shoot and qualify in the Department Revolver Course. This practice is held annually during the months of December, January and February. The following is the Department Revolver Qualification Course used during the last season's shoot:

Range:

15 yards for slow and timed fire.

20 yards for rapid fire.

Course:

Two scores of five shots each, slow fire, one minute per shot.

Two scores of five shots each, timed fire, 30 seconds per score.

Two scores of five shots each, rapid fire, 15 seconds per score.

Targets:

20-yard Standard American targets for slow and timed fire, and silhouette man-figure moving target for rapid fire, counting the kill hits only.

Qualifications:

Scores necessary to acquire this rank

Expert 255 (See note)

Sharpshooter 240

Marksman 220

First Class..... 180 (Qualified)

All officers are required to shoot the above course through twice, the first time being practice.

Note: All officers qualifying as experts are awarded a Gold Expert button to be worn on the left lapel of the uniform coat and are permitted to accumulate four recreation days.

The following are the results of last season's shoot held during the months of December, 1928, and January and February, 1929:

Experts	Sharpshooters	Marksmen	First Class	Failed	Excused	Total
					Physically Disabled
64	68	182	694	684	108	1829

The officers failing to qualify in this course are formed into classes and required to take a special course in marksmanship on their own time after the regular target practice season. This they continue until such time as they are able to qualify. The practice for the officers failing to shoot the required score is held immediately following the annual Qualification Course during the months of March, April and May.

The complete shooting scores and annual marksmanship rating of each individual officer of the department are recorded and filed in the private files of the Chief of Police.

Following the annual qualification shoot an individual competitive match is held for officers qualifying as Experts. The three officers shooting the highest scores in this match are awarded a Gold, Silver and Bronze Commissioners' medal. During the past two years these honors were held as follows: Season of 1927 to 1928:

The Gold Medal to Sergeant Frank W. Evans, Central District.

The Silver Medal to Detective Chas. M. Hallet, Secret Service Division.

The Bronze Medal to Sergeant August S. LaTour, Traffic Division.

Season of 1928 to 1929:

The Gold Medal to Patrolman Thamer Hill, Second District.

The Silver Medal to Patrolman Ralph Brocksmith, Eighth District.

The Bronze Medal to Patrolman Ralph Whitworth, Tenth District.

During the summer months from June to November each of the sixteen districts organize a revolver team of seven men to compete against all other districts according to a set schedule. The results of these inter-district matches and the standing of the teams are published weekly in the Department Journal. At the end of the season the district winning the most matches is awarded a bronze plaque, which is their permanent property and also a championship banner, which is awarded to the winner each year. During the past few years this banner has been held as follows:

Championship banner held by Sixth District in 1926.

Championship banner held by Eighth District in 1927.

Championship banner held by Secret Service Division in 1928.

In the past year the Department Revolver Team, under the direction of the Drillmaster, has been entered in several important revolver matches. In one match held by the Missouri State Rifle Association at Columbia, Missouri, the Department Team won the Police Team Revolver Championship Trophy for the State of Missouri, consisting of a silver loving cup. The members of this team also entered the individual revolver matches, winning several medals.

A department revolver team was also entered in the national matches held by the United States Government at Camp Perry, Ohio, where they won seventh place in the National Police Team Championship match. The members of this team while at Camp Perry entered several individual matches and also attended the Small Arms Firing School conducted by the United States Government, receiving certificates of proficiency in the handling of small arms, pistol marksmanship, sub-machine gun, gas and disarming methods.

The Police Officers' Revolver Club, which is sponsored by the Drillmaster's Office and is open to all members of the department, creates quite an interest in the department. This club meets regularly each week at the new Headquarters Target Range or at the department outdoor target range, shooting the regular department qualification course mentioned above. The results of these shoots are published weekly in the Journal of the department.

ST. LOUIS POLICE PENSION FUND ASSOCIATION

In 1907 the St. Louis Police Force consisted of 1,692 men and now consists of 1,849 men, the total increase in 19 years being 157 men. Out of the present force, limited by law to 1,849 men, there were on July 1, 1925, 190 men 60 years of age or over—70 of these being over 65 years of age and some over 80 years of age. Many of these men, as disclosed by physical examination, were physically unfit to perform police duty. These unfit men had been permitted to remain on the force because there was no pension system and to dismiss them meant to turn them out of the only job they knew, without support in their old age. As the numbers on the force were limited by law, no increase could be made and these old men held places which should have been filled by capable young men, and their retention lowered to a marked degree the efficiency of the force.

In order to relieve this very unsatisfactory condition, the Police Board in September, 1925, with the co-operation of the members of the force, organized a corporation known as St. Louis Police Pension Fund Association, the purpose of which was to make possible the immediate pensioning of men totally unfit for police duty and to pave the way for a real pension system. The sole support of this association is the voluntary contributions by members of the force of five per cent of their monthly pay.

The first member pensioned was on October 31, 1925. Meetings of the association are held in the office of the Chief of Police on the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Upon the organization of this association, the Police Board proceeded to retire a number of men who were absolutely incapacitated for police duty, and at present there are enrolled as beneficiaries of this association 45 former police officers, 25 widows of officers, one mother of an officer and 20 minor children under the age of 16 years. While these retirements have improved the situation, the fact is that there are many men still on the force who are no longer fit for active police duty and should be retired; but their retirement would constitute too heavy a burden upon the present temporary pension system, supported as it is entirely by contributions from the members of the force.

The 5 per cent dues is a heavy tax on the members of the force. To meet the emergency the Board undertook to get behind a movement to secure the adoption of a constitutional amendment permitting the use of public funds for police pensions, and which would result in placing the pension upon a permanent basis.

This amendment was necessary because the Constitution of Missouri, as construed by the Supreme Court, prohibited pensions to policemen.

Police pensions were authorized by law in nearly every city in the country having a population of 100,000 or over, except in St. Louis and Kansas City.

Sufficient signatures were obtained to place this amendment on the ballot for the election held November, 1926, and the necessary petitions were filed with the Secretary of State.

The official vote of the 114 counties of the State of Missouri and the City of St. Louis on Proposition No. 2 (the Police Pension Amendment) resulted in its passage by a majority of 246,184, as follows: For, 523,634; against, 277,450.

A bill providing for police pensions for the City of St. Louis was presented to the Legislature which met in January, 1927. It passed the House of Representatives, but was permitted to die in the Senate as the result of a filibuster. Bills providing for police pensions for Kansas City and St. Joseph met a similar fate.

Petitions have been filed with the Secretary of State to place this bill on the ballot for the election to be held in 1928.

This bill was defeated by the voters in the election held November 2, 1928. The police pension bill submitted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and approved by the Board of Police Commissioners, was passed by both houses of the State Legislature on May 23, 1929, and is now awaiting the signature of the Governor. The bill, if signed, will become effective October 1, 1929.

Telephone Service

Estimated telephone calls and connections made through Headquarters police switchboard averaged 1,312 daily. Like calls and connections completed through the Bell private branch exchange switchboard averaged 4,562 daily. Calls through the Bell switchboard in the Chief of Detective's office averaged 1,124.

Connecting the Bell telephone exchange with the police Bell two-position private branch exchange switchboard (Central 1212) are fourteen trunk lines, over which all Bell subscribers may be connected with the police stations and with officials of the Police Department.

The fourteen district stations are all equipped with common battery switchboards with approved storage battery and battery charging equipment; also with automatic flashing device for flashing the red signal light, with which each of the patrol boxes is equipped.

Connected with Police Headquarters switchboard, located in Police Headquarters Building, are trunk lines to each of the fourteen district station switchboards.

Connected with each district station are trunk lines to the adjoining switchboard. In the event that Headquarters switchboard direct trunk line to a district station should be out of order the Headquarters switchboard may connect with the disabled district through the adjoining district and may in such manner give satisfactory service until the direct trunk line is repaired.

Connected with the department switchboard are 740 telephones, 629 of these being in patrol boxes; also a like number of red signal flashlights.

During the year three additional patrol boxes, equipped with recall flashlights, have been added. The recall flashing is effective by employing the 125-volt lighting current, properly regulated by transformers, the flashing being done over the telephone talking circuit.

Teletype receivers are installed in each of the fourteen district stations and in the Secret Service Division; also three transmitting teletype machines are installed in Room 503, Police Headquarters Building.

Necessary new work, repairs and general maintenance of the police telephone, patrol and flashlight service has been given prompt and courteous attention by the Fire and Police Telegraph Department.

The City Light, Heat and Power Branch has also responded to requests for new work, materials and repairs.
